Red Hordes Enter Rail Center of Wonju

ALLIED UNITS WITHDRAW TO NEW POSITION

Tokyo, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Allied rearguard forces yielded the ruins of Wonju to an overwhelming horde of Chinese and North Korean Reds today after a bitter holding action that bought precious time.

Red troops entered the burning road and rail center as U. N. forces withdrew to new positions. The Allies had fought fiercely for the city, 55 miles southeast of Seoul, to buy time for the main body of U. N. forces to retreat southwestward from Seoul to the road leading to the southwest port of Pusan.

A. P. correspondent Tom Lambert reported in a delayed dispatch that the main forces Sunday had pulled back south of Osan, 28 air miles south of Seoul. That's 50 miles southwest of Wonju and on the main route from the burned and abandoned South Korean capital to Taejon and Pusan. It was at Osan that the first American soldier to fight in the Korean war was killed last July.

Wonju's defenders battled Saturday, Sunday and Sunday night to keep the Reds from sweeping into the gateway city to the heart of South Korea. A web of roads lead from Wonju into the interior.

Department of Defense lists from Korea, released over the weekend, include one area man reported missing in action. He is Cpl. Edwin J. Neckers, son of Mrs. Cleo Neckers, Corry R. D. 5. In the same list, Pfc. Jack E. McFarland, son of Jess N. McFarland, Leeper, is listed as wounded.

Held at bay by the grim defenders were seven Chinese armies, possible 210,000 men, and their Korean Red comrades.

Then the defenders abandoned the town and its airstrip. Allied warplanes strafed and fire-bombed Wonju after the withdrawal. An ammunition train was blown up. U. S. Eighth Army headquarters said Allied casualties were light during the holding action. Headquarters said fighting continued in the Wonju area, east and west of the city.

The Allied rearguard still was fighting desperately to block the Reds from a southward sweep that would menace the main body of U. N. troops.

General MacArthur's summary, said heavy casualties were inflicted on the Reds. It reported Allied troops had withstood heavy pressure on Wonju's east side.

The Communists had penetrated the devastated city's outskirts Sunday only to be hurled out by a counterattack.

So fierce was Allied resistance that air observers saw Red troops (Turn to Page Six)

Judge Presides At Twelfth Night Coronation

A large turnout of Warren residents watched the burning of the greens Saturday night at Beaty Field where the Warren Girl Scouts celebrated "Twelfth Night". Cars lined both sides of Conewango Avenue and the playground banks were lined with persons who watched the Christmas greens go up in flames.

Before the burning of the greens, Warren Girl Scouts gathered in Beaty Gym for a program of entertainment, supper, and selection of the king and queen and the court of Twelfth Night.

Reigning as king over the ceremonies was Donna Hewitt, 15 Myrtle Street, an 8th grade pupil, and her queen was Deann Swanson, 9 Allison Street, a 7th grade student.

The king and queen were crowned by Judge Allison D. Wade who pointed out that this was the 12th anniversary of Twelfth Night programs in Warren. The royal couple then led the girl scouts in a procession from the school to the field where boy scouts ignited the pile of trees.

Other members of the court were:

Crown bearer — Nancy Paucek; Pages—Jane Patock, Carol Pitman; color bearers — Thelma White, Roslyn Sugarman and Jane Harrington; carolers—Gloria Lowe, Kay Proctor, Dorothy Lundahl, Diane McChesney, Rosemarie Reese, Sylvia Lind, Jackie Lee Colvin, Diane Seymour, Louann Lane, Jill Connor, Judy Johnson, and Joan Bogart. The procession was led by Girl Scouts Marcia Radar and Patty Bengston.

Stabilization Director Promises Try Will Be Made To Control Meat Prices

Washington, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Economic Stabilization Administrator Alan Valentine said today a "big try" will be made "as soon as we can" to control skyrocketing meat prices.

He hinted broadly that the effort might be accompanied by rationing and "probably subsidies."

"The real fact is we don't know to what extent meat prices can be controlled, but as soon as we can we'll make a try at it, and it will be a big try," Valentine said.

This statement, made in an interview with the weekly news magazine "U. S. News and World Report," coincided significantly with a speedup in the agency's drive to build up a staff big enough for the gigantic job of controlling prices and wages. Valentine ordered the recruiting stepup.

In promising an attempt at controlling meat prices, the FSA chief indicated that he considered food costs a major obstacle in the path of possible new wage controls.

Asked if "the lack of any control of meat prices makes it impossible to handle the stabilization of wages," he answered:

"That's the point. Not impossible, but difficult."

Valentine said he had not "come on a single man in the industry who feels that, without strict rationing and probably subsidies, meat prices can be controlled, really controlled."

And without such control, he said the so-called escalator agreements in some labor contracts might tend to keep wages creeping higher. Escalator agreements call for pay increases to meet rising living costs.

Valentine explained that a break in wage controls would result in rising production costs and these costs in turn would call for more price increases which would again require other wage increases. "And then you get the same old ring-around-a-rosy all over again," he said.

around the high school. Police found a hobo who had spent the night at the station trying to hitch-hike a ride to Jamestown. Several cars and trucks, blocking Pennsylvania avenue, west, near the G. G. Greene plant, were tagged by police. Another car, blocking the driveway to the emergency ward at Warren General Hospital, was moved and tagged.

Police recovered $20 taken from an Elm street home by a neighbor. No charges have been filed.

Saturday morning, a report was received of a horse running wild on Crescent Park. The animal was under control by its rider when police arrived on the scene.

Thursday, a minor accident was reported when a truck operated by Hugh E. Dates, 39 Hemlock street, and owned by Turner Radio Shop, and a car operated by Virgil H. Carlson, 1103 Spring street, collided at Jackson and Franklin streets. No injuries or amount of damage was listed.

At 9:30 a. m. today, a car operated by A. A. Albaugh, 8 Hertzel street, and the boro snow loader, collided at Third and Hickory streets. Damage was minor.

AGENTS ON STRIKE

Pittsburgh, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Prudential Insurance Company agents in three Pennsylvania counties called a strike today against the company. The agents, all members of AFL Federation of Insurance Agents Council, Local 24438, voted to strike following suspension of 32 Pittsburgh agents for failure to make out debit reports.

Eagan's Claim To Court Seat Denied

Philadelphia, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The state supreme court today dismissed Lackawanna County Judge Michael J. Eagan's claim to a seat on the court.

In a per curiam (by the whole court)—ruling four judges of the state's highest court upheld a Dauphin county decision denying that Judge Eagan was elected to the supreme court last November.

Only the four senior members of the court, Chief Justice James B. Drew and Justices Horace Stern, Allen M. Stearns and Charles A. Jones, heard arguments on the case Friday. Justices John C. Bell, Grover C. Ladner and T. McKen Chidsey had disqualified themselves because of previous participation or interest in the case.

A brief announcement of the ruling was made at the start of the Supreme Court session today by Chief Justice Drew. He said an opinion will be filed later.

Eagan, judge of common pleas court in Lackawanna county, was the Democratic nominee for Supreme court last November. He was defeated by Bell, the Republican nominee, who was certified as elected.

Honor Medal For Hero From Penn-a

Washington, Jan. 8.—(AP)—A young Pennsylvania soldier who fired all his ammunition, cast the last of his grenades and then bashed in the skulls of Korean Reds with a shovel has been awarded the medal of honor.

The army last night gave details of the heroism, beyond and above the call of duty, of 20-year-old Melvin L. Brown of Mahaffey, Pa.

But Brown will not be here to receive the medal from President Truman at a White House ceremony Tuesday.

He was last seen, wounded, standing on top of a 50-foot wall near Kasan, Korea, Sept. 4, trying desperately to hold off the enemy while his platoon could secure a position.

His father, Edward D. Brown, will receive the highest military award in behalf of his son.

IKE IN PARIS FOR PARLEY WITH CHIEFS

Paris, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The top military leaders of France met with General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower today to talk, in terms of men and guns, of their contribution to his Atlantic army.

Among them was Gen. Alphonse Juin, career soldier and an Eisenhower colleague of World War II, who is strongly reported due to be the Atlantic army's ground forces commander.

The famous American general paid calls on Premier Rene Pleven and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman early today, and then went to the Defense Ministry to get down to work.

Defense Minister Jules Moch received him privately first, then convened a session of his highest ranking officers and chiefs of staff.

The famed World War II leader arrived in Paris yesterday to head an international force to defend the west against Communism. At once he served warning that any nation, tempted to test the power of the west had better think long and carefully about starting anything.

Eisenhower's arrival here marks his first formal visit to one of the European powers that will give him men and machines for the army the 12-nation Atlantic community has asked him to create to fend off aggression from the east.

After a quick tour of the north Atlantic treaty countries Eisenhower is slated to return to Washington late this month. He comes back here around mid-February to begin the task of putting into full operation his Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers in Europe (SHAPE).

SALESMAN ON TRIAL FOR SLAYING OF FIVE

Woodbury, N. J., Jan. 8.—(AP)—A 26-year-old appliance salesman accused of slaying five of his wife's relatives is scheduled to go on trial today.

Prosecutor Milton Hannold, of Gloucester county, said he would ask the death penalty for Ernest Ingento, accused of the mass slaying at nearby Piney Hollow last November 17.

Hannold said he probably would try Ingento on only one of five murder charges on which he has been indicted.

Ingento's court-appointed attorney, Frank Sahl, said last night his client will plead temporary insanity.

Ingento, who also wounded his wife and three more of her relatives in the shooting rampage, was quoted by Sahl as being "very remorseful, very repentant and very sorry."

State Farm Show Is All Ready For Opening Tonight

Harrisburg, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The 1951 State Farm Show threw open its doors here today for a blue ribbon peek at Pennsylvania's two billion dollar agriculture industry.

The triple anniversary show, held in the huge 13-acre farm show building, is jammed with 11,000 individual exhibits of the farm world's finest products.

Miles Horst, state agriculture secretary and Farm Show Commission chairman, predicted in advance of the opening that a new record attendance may be set this year, weather permitting.

Horst forecast that some 600,000 visitors would converge on the show during its five-day run, ending Friday.

The huge exposition—largest of its kind in the world—shattered more than half a dozen records even before opening its gates today.

The livestock exhibit, totaling 1723 head of cattle, horses, swine and sheep, is the largest in history. The poultry exhibit also is a new record high with some 4,000 birds.

Although the gates were thrown open at 8 a. m., formal opening of the big show will be marked tonight with a ceremony in the large arena which accommodates 10,000 persons. Gov. James H. Duff will deliver the opening address.

U. N. Is Now In Manhattan Headquarters

United Nations, N. Y., Jan. 8.—(AP)—The United Nations moved officially into its $65,000,000 Manhattan headquarters today, but the organization's crowd-drawing activities still will take place at Lake Success.

Meeting rooms for the security council, the economic and social council and the six main committees are not yet finished. These bodies will continue to function in one wing of the Sperry gyroscope plant at Lake Success, on Long Island 15 miles from the new building.

The press and documents sections will also remain at the old building.

Although a majority of the U. N.'s 3,300 employees have moved to half-furnished offices in the 39-story Manhattan building, the structure is still largely unfinished. Moving costs have already passed $300,000.

Diplomats, secretariat and visitors enter over a 1,000-foot swaying wooden catwalk. Underneath is a 250-car garage being built under the 17-acre site which John D. Rockefeller, Jr., purchased for $8,500,000 and deeded to the U. N. in 1946.

The United States lent the U. N. the money to meet construction costs. Excavation started Sept. 14, 1948.

The site extends from east 42nd to 48th streets between First avenue and the East river drive. New York City has so far spent over $26,000,000 to roof over the north-south arteries and make other traffic and utility improvements for the world organization.

The main secretariat building was designed by an international group of architects headed by Wallace K. Harrison, who did much of Rockefeller center.

Its north and south walls are narrow, solid, windowless slabs made of 2,000 tons of grey and white Vermont marble. They are often likened by detractors to giant tombstones and by admirers to noble monuments to peace.

The wide east and west walls are sheer glass—5,400 greenish, glare-proof, windowed, aluminum-framed windows.

Inside are 889,000 square feet—approximately 20 acres—of office space. Interior finishes are mostly green and grey marble, blue-grey slate, limestone and granite.

Two Go To Death In Electric Chair

Bellefonte, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Two men convicted of murder—both in their 40's—were executed early today in the electric chair at Rockview penitentiary.

The first to die was Clement Shupp, 48, of Allentown, convicted of the 1949 shooting of Marion Walck in Fullerton, a suburb of Allentown. He was followed, four minutes later, by 42-year-old Alex Agoston, of Berwick, brought here from Bloomsburg where the Columbia county court sentenced him to death for killing Russell Balliet, a Berwick used car salesman.

Shupp died without a word. As guards led him to the chair he stared straight ahead, no flicker of emotion on his face. This contrasted sharply with his breakdown from nervous exhaustion when he was brought here Saturday.

But Agoston, silent and subdued all Sunday long, filled his last moments with outcries that he is innocent. "They wouldn't give me a preliminary hearing—I tried to tell them I didn't do it," he exclaimed.

Recruiting for the expanded boards is currently being accelerated. Gross said Selective Service headquarters here has the names of more than 12,000 citizens who have expressed their willingness to serve as board members, appeal agents, medical advisors or clerks.

Five Persons Dead In Traffic Crashes

Pittsburgh, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Traffic crashes killed five persons in western Pennsylvania over the weekend.

A. H. Kunkle, about 30, and his wife, Mary, 25, of Ellwood City met death last night. Their auto was struck by a Pennsylvania Railroad switching engine five miles southwest of Ellwood City.

Mrs. Sophia Gavlinski, 57, of Little Cooley, was killed in an auto-truck wreck yesterday on Route 27, 11 miles east of Meadville. Three others were hospitalized.

A jeep-auto collision near Washington on Route 40 killed Stanley Rejervich, 28, of Vestaburg. Two other persons suffered minor injuries.

Pres. Truman Asks Congress For Draft Law Changes And Greater Wage-Price Controls

Washington, Jan. 8.—(AP)—President Truman said today Russia's leaders are out "to take over the world, step by step" and warned: "we will fight, if fight we must, to keep our freedom and to prevent justice from being destroyed."

In a personally delivered "State of the Union" message to congress, Mr. Truman said, too, the United States is "willing, as we have always been, to negotiate honorable settlements with the Soviet Union."

"But we will not engage in appeasement." Mr. Truman's 3,500-word message was first of all a defense of his foreign policy which is geared to the idea of building American and western European strength to the point where Russia will respect it.

It was second a general outline of what has been done so far in the way of military mobilization and a broad sketching of what is to come.

"We are preparing for full wartime mobilization, if that should become necessary," Mr. Truman said.

As part of that preparation, the president said he wants changes in the draft law, higher taxes, greater wage-price controls powers, "improvement" of labor and farm laws, aid to education, and federal aid for training medical men and women.

He gave no details on any of these.

Solemnly, the president told the lawmakers they face "as grave a task as any congress in the history of the republic."

Mr. Truman pledged that this country will not abandon its leadership of "the community of free nations."

Replying, in effect, to recent demands by former President Herbert Hoover and Republican Senator Robert A. Taft that this country limit its military aid to western Europe, the president declared America's national security is too deeply involved to allow any withdrawal of help.

Mr. Truman submitted a ten-point legislative program calling for:

"First, appropriations for our military build-up.

"Second, extension and revision of the Selective Service Act.

"Third, military and economic aid to help build up the strength of the free world.

"Fourth, revision and extension of the 50,000-planes-a-year figure used by Mr. Truman was the same goal the late President Roosevelt set in May, 1940, when the nation began going full scale into defensive preparations for a war that hit a year and a half later.

Harrisburg, Jan. 8.—(AP)—A plan was unveiled today calling for five times the present number of local draft boards in Pennsylvania in the event of all-out mobilization.

State Draft Director Henry M. Gross said the job of recruiting board members for the expanded selective service system has been proceeding quietly, with the job about half complete.

"This expansion is preparedness for the moment all-out mobilization is called by Washington," said Gross. "However, it apparently isn't imminent."

At present, there are 175 local draft boards in Pennsylvania. The new plan calls for nearly 850 boards—the most ever. World War Two saw 422 boards established in Pennsylvania.

The board locations already are fixed but Gross said that this information was classified and could not be made public.

Gross said the program calls for using the personnel from the current three and five-member boards as the nucleus for the small boards.

Under all-out mobilization, there would be one board for approximately every 13,000 population compared to the present ratio of one for each 65,000 persons.

Recruiting for the expanded boards is currently being accelerated. Gross said Selective Service headquarters here has the names of more than 12,000 citizens who have expressed their willingness to serve as board members, appeal agents, medical advisors or clerks.

FUMES PROVE FATAL

Pittsburgh, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Westinghouse Electric Corp. is going to explain newest scientific developments, including atomic energy and television, with comic books.

A brightly colored 16 page cartoon style book has been prepared for use in science and social science classes in junior and senior high schools.

Fumes from two gas fires were blamed for killing Mrs. Amelia Peifer, about 65. The northside woman's body was found in her apartment yesterday. Deputy coroners said she had been dead about a week.

BOARD OF EDUCATION
The regular meeting of school board, postponed from the first Monday of the month because of the New Year holiday, will be held at 7:30 this evening at Warren High School.

Five Boys Involved In Theft Of Ford Automobile Emblems From Cars In Boro

City police Officers Park, Hewitt and Ristau, and Chief of Police Mike Evan finished questioning 15 boys over the week end to clear up the theft of Ford automobile emblems from cars about town during the past week. The boys, all Beaty junior high students, took a total of 26 of the emblems. Sixteen were rear plates, and 20 from the radiator. The emblems are valued at $5.15 a set.

They are fastened to the cars with three plastic pins in such a manner that a sharp downward blow will break the pins. They cannot be replaced, once removed.

Police are of the opinion that no particular larceny was intended, and that the boys took the plates for belt ornaments. They will all be asked to make restitution, and two of the lads have already paid up.

One boy had 13 of the emblems, and another one had 12. Their expenses will run rather high.

Other police activities over the week end were purely routine. Two street battles Friday evening called for police attention. One was on Clark street and the second on the waterfront.

Saturday morning, a suspicious character was reported hanging

Crowd Participates in Twelfth Night At Youngsville

The first Twelfth Night celebration for Youngsville was held Saturday at Island Park, with a large gathering to watch the crowning of the King and Queen and see the huge pile of greens go up in flames as the final Yuletide festivity.

Church bells heralded the celebration, at which time the entire court proceeded from the Legion Hall to the park, parading the full length of the lighted field. Warren Kay, Burgess, addressed the court and the audience. Two Brownie Scouts, Crown Bearers Beverly Meleen and Connie Brown, presented Mr. Kay with the crowns. "On behalf of the Girl Scouts," he stated, "it gives me great pleasure to crown Priscilla Ransom as Queen for 1951; it gives me the same amount of pleasure to crown Joan McAllister as King for the year 1951. Let us give the King and Queen, their court, and members of the Girl Scouts a big hand."

Other members of the court were: Heralds, Shirley Egbert and Jean Anderson; train bearers, Susan Littlefield and Leora Daugherty; jester, Nancy Stock; members of the court: Delores Artico, Beth Schwartz, Shirley Hazeltine, Beverly Atkins, Becky McKinney, Karen Swanson, Louise Barton, Sandra Johnson, Ann Getts, Patty Moore, Susan Johnson and Louise Gibson.

Girl Scout adults, Ruby Ransom, Orrie Maasz, Mernie Kirk, Dorothy Beggs, Dorothy McAllister and Helen Piper, lighted the greens with the torches.

The Youngsville Girl Scout Neighborhood Club wishes to heartily thank all for their help and splendid cooperation in making this, their first Twelfth Night ceremony, a successful one: to those who brought their trees to the field and to Valentine's for collecting others; to the Boy and Girl Scouts who helped pile the greens in preparation for burning; to the borough for permission to hold the ceremonies at Island Park; to the churches for ringing their bells; to the fire department for providing lights and fire protection; to the burgess for crowning the King and Queen of 1951; to the American Legion for providing protection around the greens; and to the spectators for coming and being so orderly.

Masons of Area Honor Former District Deputy

The six lodges in the 56th district of the Masonic jurisdiction of Pennsylvania united to pay deserved tribute for long and self-sacrificing service of a fellow member when a testimonial dinner was held Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Masonic temple in Liberty street, honoring Roy M. Krebs, Warren, who is leaving for Philadelphia this week where he assumes a position recently accepted as secretary to the grand master, W. E. Yeager, of this city.

There were 170 in attendance, representing not only the six lodges in the district, but many others in northwestern Pennsylvania and New York state. Sponsoring lodges were: Temple Lodge No. 412, Tidouche; Stillwater Lodge No. 547, Youngsville; Acacia Lodge No. 633, Marienville; Olive Lodge No. 557, Tionesta; Joseph Warren Lodge No. 726, and North Star Lodge No. 241, Warren.

A delectable turkey dinner prepared by the Lewis Catering Service was served by a capable group of members of the Eastern Star Lodge, in the social rooms of the temple, with every available bit of space being used to accommodate the large crowd. The invocation was by the Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge, Warren, grand chaplain, and the toastmaster was Harold S. Hampson, a past master of North Star Lodge.

Opening the program Mr. Hampson called attention to the fact that the sponsoring group composed of the lodges in the 56th district, and the occasion honored a member who has been a conscientious worker and district deputy for many years.

The esteem in which Mr. Krebs is held in the district which he has served so faithfully was reflected in the large number of valuable and useful gifts presented him on behalf of the district and the lodges, while much humor was injected into the program when he was given articles reminding of his activities along social lines.

Park Best, past master of Acacia Lodge, on behalf of the district, presented Mr. Krebs with a valuable brief case; Harry Rogers, past master of Joseph Warren Lodge, made the presentation of a traveling bag to the guest of honor, and to the toastmaster was delegated the pleasant duty of presenting him with a wrist watch.

On the lighter side, Harold A. Ross, past master and secretary of North Star Lodge, with appropriate remarks, presented Mr. Krebs with a large cigar, and Harry Shawkey, best known for his cane made from native wood he has donated $2,475 to the Crippled Children's Fund at Zern Hospital, gave the honor guest a large cribbage board, which was found to contain only four holes in each space on one side, as compared to the regulation five on the other side.

Speakers during the evening were: Archibald P. Akeley, Coudersport, commander-in-chief of Coudersport Consistory, chosen to speak for a number of other honored guests introduced previously; Ivan S. Brumagim, district deputy grand master of the 56th Masonic district, who succeeds Mr. Krebs; and William E. Yeager, right worshipful grand master of Masons in Pennsylvania.

Introduced during the evening were: E. Gordon Potter, Coudersport, district deputy of district 23; Robert E. Deyoe, Oil City, district deputy of district 23; Paul H. Conner, Smethport, district deputy, district 44; the Rev. G. Mason Cochran, Oil City, grand chaplain; the Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge, grand chaplain; Henry O. Walker, grand marshal and William F. Crosslett, grand sword bearer.

All speakers had high praise for Mr. Krebs, not only for his untiring efforts in behalf of Free Ma-

Many Farm Workers In Area Now Under The Federal Social Security Regulation

Regular farm workers—perhaps as many as 1400 of them in the Erie, Crawford and Warren area—came under the Federal social security law beginning January 1, 1951, according to Bernard A. Farabaugh, manager of the Erie social security office. He emphasized that it is the regular farm worker who is paid cash wages who will come under the law—not the itinerant, seasonal, or part-time worker.

A new leaflet, "Notice to Farmers with Regular Hired Help" explains how the farm operator can tell whether any of his employees are covered by the law. The leaflet is available from the social security office in Erie, the Collector of Internal Revenue, Pittsburgh or the local Deputy Collectors in the post office, in Warren, Meadville and Erie. Many banks also have copies of the notice.

In addition to explaining just what farm workers are covered, the leaflet contains a tear-off slip, Form SS-4a, which the farm operator should complete and mail if he has employees who will be covered by the law. Further information about making the quarterly tax reports, and copies of the reporting blanks, will be sent to farmers who mail this form to the collector of internal revenue.

Although the new law brings farm work under the social security system for the first time, the system will not be new to thousands of the farm workers. Many of them made a substantial start toward old-age and survivors insurance payments by working in commercial or industrial jobs at some time since 1936. Some of them worked in war plants, and others are veterans of World War II, who will receive social security credits for their military service.

Regularly employed farm workers who do not have a social security account number card should secure one within the next few weeks. The account number is necessary in order to insure proper social security credit for the worker's wages. Applications for the account number card are in every post office and at your Social Security office. The card is issued at no cost to the worker.

"Not all farm workers are covered by the new law," Mr. Farabaugh emphasized. The farm operator himself does not receive the protection of old-age survivors insurance, nor do farm workers who work less than five months for one employer.

Before he can be covered by the law, a farm worker must work for an employer during a qualifying period of one full calendar quarter. This may be the last calendar quarter of 1950—October, November, and December.

After he has served the qualifying period, the employee will earn social security credit for each succeeding calendar quarter of employment by the same operator as long as he continues to work at least 60 days on a full-time basis in each calendar quarter, and earns at least $50 in each quarter. He will also be covered for the first quarter in which he works less than 60 days if he earns cash wages of at least $50. In this event, before he can be covered in any future quarter, he must again serve a qualifying period.

In making efficient use of telephone wires and cables...and in keeping them in service...there's no substitute for experience.

Throughout the Bell Telephone organization, in fact, you'll find constant emphasis on experience, alertness, efficiency...and ingenuity. These characteristics, always needed to provide good telephone service at low cost, are even more important during times of national emergency.

You can be sure that telephone people are doing all they can, subject only to limitations of material and manpower, to meet the nation's urgent needs...as well as to fill the still-growing demand for residence and business service.

REMINDER ABOUT FREEDOM

Lt. Gen. Matthew Ridgway, the new field commander of UN forces in Korea, told his men the other day to remember they are fighting for freedom, not just for muddy villages in a strange land.

The reminder is important. But there's another side to the story. Countless thousands of peaceful people had their homes in those muddy villages.

It's hard for us, 7,000 to 10,000 miles away, to realize the personal tragedy suffered today by millions of Koreans. As the tides of battle have shifted back and forth, their homes and their towns have been caught repeatedly in the line of fire.

A big share of these villages now has been hopelessly flattened. Even if the Communist scourge should be suddenly lifted from their country these people would have nothing to return to but crumbled ruins. However the war comes out, these unfortunate folk will lose.

Their tragic plight is dramatically emphasized in the great exodus that preceded Seoul's fall to the Reds for the second time. As civilians streamed across the Han River bridges in search of some haven in the south, Seoul's population plummeted from a normal 1,750,000 to only 500,000.

Other hundreds of thousands from many parts of Korea have fled southward, too. We even evacuated more than 100,000 North Koreans by sea from Hungnam when our forces pulled out.

The current Red drive is producing more refugees than did the first one last summer. The people have now experienced the contrast between democratic and Communist rule. More than that, in recent months they have cooperated with UN forces; they know death or other reprisals await them if they stay.

Only recently have we learned how shockingly the North Koreans treated their blood brothers as they fell back during the successful UN advance last fall. Our military leaders were puzzled to find so few natives equipped by talent and training for local civilian leadership.

The reason was simple: the Korean Reds had systematically murdered the best educated and most talented citizens in the villages they abandoned. Perhaps never before has a "scorched humans" policy been pursued so ruthlessly. Nothing any more pleasant awaits those who do not follow UN armies southward this time.

Thus Korea, which a year ago was still a peaceful land with hope of gradual betterment for its people, is today a blackened shambles. Over its scarred, churned-up earth wander millions of human beings who do not know where their next home will be. They know only that they must flee the Red terror.

We are fighting for freedom, yes. But liberty is not a disembodied cause. It has intense meaning for those who are barely holding to it today, and may lose it tomorrow. So long as we are firing a shot on that grubby peninsula, we must fire it not alone in the name of freedom but for the hapless Koreans and their shattered, muddy villages.

WANTED: ONE BELLOWING WATCHDOG

People in America who worry about government spending can now begin fretting harder than ever.

It's not just that heavy defense outlays are in the offing, or that rising price levels are driving the cost of government, like everything else, rapidly upward.

It's that Rep. Robert Rich, Pennsylvania Republican, has retired from the house. For 20 years he's been getting to his feet to bellow: "Where are you going to get the money?" The question has become his nickname.

Where will the House find another watchdog to yip so persistently at the spender's heels?

The high regard in which Roy M. Krebs, well known local citizen, former member of council and outstanding Masonic leader, is held in the community was reflected in the testimonial dinner held in the Masonic Temple Saturday evening, with 170 friends and associates in attendance. The event was sponsored by the six lodges of 56th Masonic district of Pennsylvania, and all concerned are to be congratulated. Mr. Krebs has accepted the position of secretary to the grand master of the Grand Lodge of Masons in Pennsylvania, and is preparing to move to Philadelphia to assume his new duties.

Always trying to fall back on your friends eventually makes you miss some of them.

It's Costing Him, Too!

Here And There

Three weeks from Friday will be Ground Hog Day, Valentines are being displayed in stationery and other stores, and there are other signs that spring is around the far corner. Take for instance a telephone call received from Mrs. Raymond Guher, Tiona, Saturday morning, informing us that she had observed a flock of from thirty to forty robins in the trees in her yard. . . . Over the weekend we were reminded that robins are not alone in venturing north at this time of the year, when Mr. and Mrs. Marty Smith, of Rattlesnake, Florida, dropped in for a chat. Marty, you may recall, is right hand man for Carl Ferris, of the Ferris Shows, that have been playing in Warren the past few years. He tells us that the show, bigger and better than ever, with new attractions for the entertainment of adults and children, is already being booked for the season. In Warren it will play the south side grounds under the auspices of the Pleasant Township

Fire Department the week of May 27th. Mr. and Mrs. Smith spent the holidays in Batavia, N. Y., and on their trip here Friday intended to go from here to Kane and Ridgway. Smith says he expects to book the show in Kane on its tour through the area.

Two young lovers, Joel Tristan and beautiful Leslie Patroon, daughter of wealthy Gilbert Patroon, precipitate a series of events that lead back to a 20-year-old, almost forgotten murder, in a new adventure in the detective comic Vic Flint, appearing on the feature page of the Times-Mirror. When Joel refuses to marry Leslie, who will inherit a fortune, Vic Flint is called into the case by the girl's father. Asked to investigate Joel's background, Flint objects to what he calls a snooper's job. His friend Libby Long, however, persuades him to change his mind. Flint learned that Joel's father died in a jail, a convicted murderer, which is why Joel believes himself unworthy of the girl he loves. Then Flint goes to New Orleans where the murder occurred, and where he encounters, among others, Hyacinth Gore, a killer, who takes pride in his work. Eventually the innocence of the elder Tristan is established and the real murderer is revealed. You'll find it interesting to follow "The Case of the Reluctant Bridegroom" in each issue of this paper.

This And That: "The Bird" column of the Kane Republican is of the opinion that "those two PRR trains that are on the schedule to be removed from service, trains 971 and 970, between Erie and Emporium, are virtually certain to be removed and no fooling about it; protests may be raised but the company has the figures to show how much it loses on the two trains and that's about all there is to it; the time of removal isn't definite and won't be for a few days." . . . In compliance with the special registration orders issued by Selective Service headquarters (doctors, dentists and veterinarians in the district not over fifty years of age, will be called to register at the local draft board next Monday, January 15; it has been announced that all doctors not over fifty years old as of January 15 must register. . . . Hear about the muskie that brought $4 a pound? Seems that a member of a local fraternal organization had a 'lunge' in cold storage, caught legally during the regular season, and conceived the idea of raffling it off to apply the money to a deserving charity; the fish was raffled and the winner, as happens quite often, "doesn't eat fish," so it was decided to auction it to the highest bidder, and that brought an extra $19—the 'lunge' weighed almost 30 pounds. . . . Congratulations to the Forest Republican awarded second place in the statewide contest for weekly and semi-weekly newspapers throughout the state in the promotion of Pennsylvania Week; Editor and Publisher John Farr received a framed award from Governor James H. Duff at Harrisburg this morning.

'State's Rights' Decision May Spark Gas Rate Battle

BY PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—A little-noticed Supreme Court decision in the state of Oklahoma and Cities Service Gas Co. cases may turn out to have considerable effect on raising the prices of natural gas which people burn in their ranges and heaters.

And from the legal standpoint, it may have the indirect effect of giving independent natural gas producers—the well owners—some of the protection against Federal Power Commission rate regulation, which they sought under the controversial Kerr bill.

President Truman vetoed this bill last April. It had been introduced by Oklahoma Sen. Robert S. Kerr, himself a natural gas producer. The bill was opposed by representatives of some 18 big cities in the northeastern U. S. They claimed it would pave the way for gas rate increases to their citizens. Senator Kerr claimed the bill would eventually lower the price of gas.

The recent Supreme Court decision in the Cities Service Gas Co. case was not a direct ruling on the rate-regulating authority of the Federal Power Commission under the Natural Gas Act of 1938. The court noted an exception that FPC was not involved in the Cities Service case. If FPC had been in it, the decision might have been otherwise.

What the court did rule was that the state of Oklahoma had the right to set a minimum price to producers on natural gas taken from the big Hugonot-Hugonot field. The decision was eight-to-one, with Justice Tom Clark delivering the majority opinion and Justice Hugo Black dissenting.

In setting its minimum rate, the Oklahoma Corporation Commission had acted under the state conservation laws. It had ruled that gas sold at less than seven cents a thousand cubic feet would be wasteful of the state's natural resources. During the war, some of this gas had been sold for as little as four cents a thousand feet, for carbon black production in the national defense effort.

Some of the gas taken from the Hugonot field goes into pipelines for distribution and consumption in other states. So one question that arises here is whether a state has the right to fix minimum prices on goods moving in interstate commerce. If Oklahoma can do it, so can the other gas producing states of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi.

The Natural Gas Act of 1938 gave Federal Power Commission authority to regulate rates on natural gas moving in interstate commerce. A majority of the Commission has also ruled that it has the authority to regulate prices paid gas producers in interstate commerce. This authority has never been exercised and FPC has never asked any producer to file rate schedules.

But what happens now, if a state can set a minimum rate for natural gas at the well head, and the Federal Power Commission sets a different and perhaps a lower rate for gas moving in interstate pipelines? And where does it leave the consumers? In the 1949 Senate hearings on the Kerr bill, it was testified that seven-cent gas would mean an increase in costs of $2,800,000 a year to the two pipelines drawing on the Hugonot field.

One of these companies, Cities Service Gas Co., distributes east through Kansas. The other, Panhandle Eastern Pipeline, goes through Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan. If the pipeline companies have to pay more for gas at well-head, they would naturally have to raise rates to their customers. Distributing companies therefore protested the increase and Cities Service went to court to test Oklahoma's power to fix prices to producers.

A major test on the Supreme Court decision could come if Federal Power Commission ever went to the mat on the Phillips Petroleum Case. It has been pending since 1946 and was postponed last month "in the interest of national defense."

PHILATHIAN CLASS

Clarendon, Jan. 8—(P)—Philathian Class members held their first meeting of the new year in the church parlors, with devotions by Mary Campbell on the theme "Things You Cannot Place Under the Christmas Tree." After she had read an article on the way New Years is celebrated in different countries, all sang "Love Found a Way" and the closing prayer was given.

Various questions were discussed during the business session conducted by the president, "Thank You" cards were read from some who received Christmas baskets and reports were heard from the various committees, after which Evelyn Meley entertained with an interesting program. The evening came to a close with refreshments served by the hostesses, Sadie Smith and Gertrude Damm.

The next meeting is scheduled for February 6, with Grace McBride and Ethel Dirling as hostesses.

MARY JANE CIRCLE

Mary Jane Circle members of Grace Methodist church will be entertained at 8 p. m. Monday at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Esther Smith, 9 Grant street.

MOTHERS STUDY CLUB

Members of the Young Mothers Study Club will meet at 8:30 p. m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Clifford Forsgren, 10 Linwood street, and Attorney William Glassman will speak on the Warren county civilian defense program.

don't DO that!

DON'T WRIGGLE . . . Pulling up a strapless dress is rapidly becoming the new American gesture. If you wear such a gown, see that it fits.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Willow Creek, Jan. 8—Mr. and Mrs. Guy H. Crooks, Corydon, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Audrey Eilayne, to William Joseph Harris, 3rd, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Winter, Buffalo, N. Y.

Miss Crooks will be graduated from Union Springs Academy, near Syracuse, N. Y., next spring and Mr. Harris is a student at Madison College, Tenn., where he is enrolled for an x-ray technician's course. No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Announcement of the betrothal was made at a New Year's Day tea given at the Crooks home. Special cakes were baked by Mrs. G. W. Smith of Bradford, and Mrs. L. B. Smith of Corydon, one bearing the names "Audrey and Bill."

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith, Corydon; Mr. and Mrs. Gale Smith, Bradford; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rowan and daughters, Karen and Sue, Brookville; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Davidson and daughter, Jean, Mt. Jewett; Mrs. C. L. Davidson, Willow Creek.

WCSG GATHERING

Lander, Jan. 8—Twenty WCSG members attended the regular meeting of the organization, held in the community house. Mrs. Fred Lindell presided and Mrs. Mitchell Mahan conducted devotions. Following the routine business session, Mrs. Elmer Swanson presented the program, with a reading, "Beyond the Manger," and a second reading, "My Daily Prayer," by Mrs. Donald Ludwick. Rev. Gustav Erickson gave a talk and, with Mrs. Erickson, sang a duet.

A letter was read from Elizabeth Dalby, missionary in Africa, and it was reported several sunshine baskets were delivered to shut-ins for Christmas. Dinner was served by Mrs. Ernest Stanton, Mrs. Donald Ludwick and Mrs. Stuart Falconer.

RUSSELL WCTU

Russell, Jan. 8—WCTU members held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Alice Moll, with a good attendance for the one o'clock tureen luncheon.

Mrs. Ray Hammar presided at the business session, Mrs. Lyle Russell conducting devotions and a Bible quiz. Mrs. Leslie Putman reported a candy treat was taken to guests at the Rouse Hospital for Christmas. Mrs. Clyde Briggs gave a reading "Why January Was So Named". Several new members were reported, bringing the total to 73, and all were urged to attend the next meeting, February 7, with Mrs. Leslie Putman. An exchange of gifts concluded a pleasant afternoon.

The aster is considered the flower for September and the sapphire the birthstone.

★ RUTH MILLETT. ★

Hey, Fellows! Look What The Gals Think of You

If some of these self-elected critics, who are always sounding off on what is wrong with American women would take a long, close look at American men they could really do a bang-up piece.

The number one fault, they'd have to admit, is that American men are so critical of American women. A woman may get annoyed or disgusted or critical of one man in particular—but in general American women really like men and find few faults with them as a group. But American men rarely have anything but criticism for women as a group.

Number two fault of American men is their insatiable appetite for flattery. It's gotten so bad that their spokesmen keep telling us: "Tell us we're wonderful all the time—or we'll find some other woman who will."

MARRIAGE IS ONE-WAY STREET

NUMBER THREE fault is their refusal to accept a fifty-fifty responsibility for making a marriage happy and successful. They rush a girl off her feet, marry her and then sit back and dare her to try and hold them. Whether the marriage flourishes or foundlers is entirely her responsibility. Then there is that little matter of dullness. All too often the American husband is a good fellow away from home, a genial host if there are guests, but a mighty dull companion when there is no one around but the little woman.

Alone with his loving spouse he can't even be bothered to make conversation, and his home manners are a sorry sight compared with his office and social manners.

Any man who doesn't believe these are fairly typical faults of the American husband ought to see the letters that come to me from wives.

Wed In Spokane

Sgt. and Mrs. Jack G. Hammerbeck, who were recently wed in Spokane, Wash., in a ceremony performed in George Wright Chapel on December 3, 1950, by Major John H. Hingson. The bride is the former Peggy Joyce Cuddy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cuddy, 1013 East Gordon avenue, Spokane, and Jack is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hammerbeck, this city. He enlisted in the Air Corps in October, 1948, and is currently stationed at Spokane Air Force Base, Bong, Wash.

IMPORTANCE OF ASSOCIATION STRESSED

Importance of the work of the Women's Association over any other activities members might have was stressed by Dr. Robert S. Steen in his talk before the regular meeting of the group. He urged greater attendance at meetings of the organization, which is beginning its second year, and gave a review of the outstanding missionary speakers of the past year.

Mrs. Fred L. Plummer, new president of the organization, presided for the first time, with Mrs. Donald McComas named first vice president; Mrs. Lewis Hubbard, second vice president. Afternoon circles were asked to notify Mrs. McComas of their meeting dates; evening circles to notify Mrs. Hubbard. Mrs. John Duesing, who has served as recording secretary, resigned, since the Duesing family is leaving Warren.

Russell, Jan. 8—Mr. and Mrs. Willis Phillips were honored guests for a variety shower given at the home of their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Phillips, Frewsburg, N. Y. The home was beautifully decorated in keeping with the holiday season and refreshments were served from a table centered with a pretty wedding cake. The time was pleasantly spent with music, contests and visiting, with Percy Phillips, a cousin, taking pictures at intervals throughout the evening. The honored one were presented with lovely gifts from the 40 relatives and friends for their new home. They are residing in an apartment in the Safford house, Liberty street, Russell.

GENERAL BACKING IS GIVEN TO MESSAGE

Washington, Jan. 8.—(P)—Democrats and Republicans in congress quickly gave their backing today to President Truman's general proposition that the United States must be made strong enough to meet any threat.

But some individual legislators were disappointed that Mr. Truman saw fit in his state-of-the-union message to revive again such controversial measures as health insurance and federal aid to education.

Many would not comment on some specific points of Mr. Truman's 10-point legislative program. For one thing, the president set the program out in very broad language. The lawmakers wanted more specific information before expressing themselves.

By and large, administration Democrats applauded the message as "powerful" or "uplifting" or "magnificent." Republicans and southern Democrats were more reserved.

BENTLEY WITNESS IN REMINGTON'S TRIAL

New York, Jan. 8.—(P)—Elizabeth Bentley, avowed former Red spy courier, testifying today that William W. Remington gave her secret wartime aircraft data, but was too "terrified" to give her original reports.

The witness made the accusation as she took the stand in the third week of Remington's perjury trial. The 33-year-old former commerce department economist is accused of falsely denying he ever was a Communist.

Miss Bentley said that Remington supplied her with aircraft production figures, data on types of planes and their allocation for relay to Soviet espionage agents.

CASUALTY LIST

Washington, Jan. 8.—(P)—The Defense Department today identified 436 additional U. S. casualties of the Korean war. The total in a new casualty list (No. 195) 296 wounded, 113 missing, 20 killed or died of wounds and seven injured in accidents.

Bill Gordon's "Partner" ...

Your grocer, Bill Gordon, has a "partner" who is very valuable to him, and Bill's business would suffer if his "partner" ever failed him. It never has. You see, Bill's partner is his daily newspaper. It brings him news... it tells his customers about the food and bargains he has for them. His daily newspaper lets him know, in a brief but thorough manner, what his customers are thinking... saying... doing. It serves him in many other ways, too. In bringing Bill Gordon the news of his community, nation and the world, his newspaper doesn't do a helter-skelter job. It sifts and resifts the news so he won't have to do it himself. It brings him information by leaders in every field... it tells him who won the ball game. In its editorial columns it discusses problems, exposes wrongs and works for him and his community every day in the year. Yes, Bill Gordon's daily newspaper is all important to him—it's all important to you too.

YOUR NEWSPAPER IS YOUR EVERY DAY PARTNER... SERVING YOU IN COUNTLESS WAYS.

HITCHHIKERS ATTACK SAMARITAN MOTORIST

Pittsburgh Jan. 8.—(P)—29-year-old Leveville man rallied from semiconsciousness today after telling police he had been beaten and robbed by two hitchhikers who took his automobile.

Raymond Shaw is reported in fair condition in suburban General Hospital in Bellevue. He is suffering from shock and multiple face injuries. Police said he told this.

He picked up two hitchhikers in Pittsburgh. After driving to the open highway one of the men grabbed him and the other slugged him.

Shaw said the next he remembered was walking on a snow-covered suburban road.

VEHICULAR EVACUATION—Rumbling hollowly across a pontoon bridge on the Han River, south of Seoul, a convoy of UN trucks and jeeps approaches the south bank as the last units of Allied 8th Army successfully evacuated the city minutes before hard-driving Chinese Communists occupied the north section of the South Korean capital. This is one of three pontoon spans erected for the withdrawal—all of which were blown up by Allied demolition teams immediately after the last UN troops crossed safely.

MANY A SLIP TWIST BID AND CONTRACT
BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
There is practically no such thing as an unbeatable contract, as long as there is any sort of guess in the hand. The play may develop in some peculiar way, and suddenly what seems like an absolute cinch turns out to be a problem.
The hand shown today, played in a team event, is a case in point.
The bidding, was substantially the same in both rooms. Six hearts was an optimistic contract, perhaps, but not unreasonable.
In the first room South won the opening lead with the ace of squeezing West. He succeeded only too well.

When South finally led a club, and East took the ace, East returned a diamond to make South ruff. By this time West had only two spades and two clubs, and he discarded the nine of clubs.
South led a spade to dummy's king, discovering that West had the last missing spade and, therefore only one club. Declarer reasoned that West's remaining club the opening lead with the ace of spades and proceeded, as in the other room, to cash both red aces, ruff a diamond, and raw trumps.
Then this South decided to lead an extra trump in the hope of must be the jack since his earlier discard had been the nine of clubs.
He therefore led a club and played the queen from his hand—only to discover that West's remaining club was the eight. East took the setting trick with the jack of clubs, not without a murmur of thanks to his partner.

Holiday Lighting Awards Are Made To Tidoute Homes

Tidoute, Jan. 8—Tidoute was a beautiful place this Christmas. Many homes were resplendent with holiday lights and trimmings and judges appointed by the Holiday Lighting Fund Committee and the Tidoute Garden Club were confronted with the most displays the community has boasted in many years. It was a difficult task for the judges, but the majority finally voted for the following:

First, Guy Downey residence and Free Methodist church; second, Urban Roza and John E. King residence; third, Roy Miskimon and Glen Heltzel residence. Many out of town visitors remarked about the beauty of the business district and homes this year. Gratitude of the committees and the town is due all who worked so hard to accomplish the project.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gustafson and family, Oil City, were weekend guests of Mrs. N. A. Benner. Holiday guests of Janet Gully were Samantha Miller, Cleveland, and Mr. Rapp, Buffalo.

Mr. and Mrs. Summerville, Warren, were New Year's dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Kapp. Tidoute High School opened Wednesday after being closed for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Johnson and Mrs. Cook have returned from a two weeks trip to Florida.

Jacky Daelhousen, Warren, is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Brocklehurst.

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson, Punxsutawney, spent Christmas with their daughter, Mrs. George Fuchler, and family.

Mrs. Esther Gully is in Warren General Hospital, but is reported getting along fine.

Helen Lodge has returned to her teaching duties after spending the holidays with her father.

Mrs. E. O. Pequinot has returned from Cambridge Springs.

The WSCS met Tuesday evening in the Methodist church, with devotions by Mrs. Robert Thomas, and with Lila Kemble as leader. Three Missionary books were reviewed by Mrs. R. Thomas, Mrs. H. Brocklehurst, and Mrs. Lena Smith. There was a lovely display of articles from the Philippines and Japan. Refreshments were served by Mrs. James Summeston and committee.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Lundell entertained a few friends Tuesday evening at their home.

Mrs. Jack McKown has returned by plane from Newport, R. I., where she spent the holidays with her husband.

Mrs. R. J. Gustafson and Mrs. C. H. Morrison spent Tuesday in Jamestown, N. Y.

CATHOLIC SCOUT TROOP—Members of the new Boy Scout Troop 10, sponsored by the Holy Redeemer church, pose with their leaders for the Times-Mirror photographer following charter presentation services at the church Sunday night. An impressive Catholic investiture service—first of its kind ever held in the Warren County Scout Council—also was conducted by Father M. E. Dalley and his assistant, Father Maloney, area chaplain. The services in the church, attended by more than 100 persons, included a blessing for the new troop's colors and American flag, presentation of the charter, presentation of certificates to the committeemen, and Communion. A party was held following the ceremony, with women of the parish providing the lunch. National Council Representative H. L. Banghart spoke briefly on the theme, "On My Honor," and Scout leaders representing the County Council were introduced, with Troop Chairman Fred Gebhardt serving as M. C. Members of the Troop and their leaders in the photo above are: Scoutmaster Frank Fago, Assistant Scoutmaster Robert McDannel, and Scouts Robert Pierce, Joseph Pascuzzi, Philip Cerra, Louis Critelli, Larry Barger, David Wert, Fred Lauffenberger, Joseph Simones, Dick Walters, Ray Tanguay, Bill Daley, Larry Nuffer, Mark Guiltinan, John Weidmaier, Leonard Mahood, Richard Anderson and Joseph Scalise.

Interesting Twelfth Night Ceremonies Are Held By Girl Scouts At Sheffield

Sheffield, Jan. 8—Twelfth Night ceremonies were observed Friday evening by the Sheffield Girl Scouts and Brownies with a party held in the afternoon at the high school followed by serving of box lunches and crowning of the King and Queen and the burning of the greens.

As the program at the party there was group singing, games, movies, a vocal solo by Teresa Valone and an accordion solo by Mrs. Freda Baker. After the box lunch the girls were served cupcakes in which were baked tokens indicating the King and Queen and the pages for the ceremony.

Mrs. Thomas Sanford, Girl Scout Neighborhood club chairman, crowned Jean Kasaback as King and Joyce McMillen as Queen. Pages were Ruth Ann Johnson, Patty Watts, Nancy Morley, Mary Kathryn Straneva, Judy Ritchie, Trudy Rogers, LaWanda Nason, Patsy McElhatten.

Crownbearers were Mildred Fiscus and Beulah Weidow; jester, Sonja Stanton; trainbearers, Betty Ann Stanko, Judy Korchak, Mary Jo Cronmiller and Carol Robson. Following the crowning at the high school the girls formed a procession and paraded to the Memorial playground where the Christmas trees were burned.

Mr. and Mrs. Beryl E. Burlingame, Keystone avenue, have received word of the birth of their first grandchild at 4:35 a. m. Saturday. The proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Cefalo, Wilkinsburg. The baby, a little girl weighing seven pounds 13 ounces at birth, has been named Virginia. Mrs. Cefalo is the former Shirley Burlingame.

Sheffield High School's Wolverines were victorious Friday night in their first league game of the current basketball season when they defeated Ridgway, 35 to 29, on the loser's court. Both teams are members of Section 9, Allegheny Mountain League.

High man for Sheffield was Jerry Cederlof with 11 points; Ed

Eisenhower was second high with seven points for the winning team. Caggiano was high with eight points for Ridgway.

The game was rough with Ridgway committing 19 fouls and Sheffield erring for 15 fouls. The losers scored 11 free attempts while Sheffield tallied 13. Ridgway played mostly a man for man defense while the winners switched around man for man and zone defenses.

The local Jayvees lost their first game in eight starts Friday night when the Ridgway Jayvees trounced them 53 to 34.

Sheffield High has no game scheduled for Tuesday night but Friday night goes to Kane for a game there.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends, neighbors, Rev. Baldwin, Rev. Carlson, and the staff of the Warren General Hospital for their kindness and sympathy shown in our recent bereavement, the loss of our infant daughter, Laurel Ann.

BARBERSHOPPERS

The Warren Barbershop Singing Society today announced that meetings and get-together sings will be held each Monday night, starting tonight, at Trinity Memorial parish house.

TRUCK CATCHES FIRE

A Sylvania truck from Warren, caught fire early Friday evening on East Main street, Youngsville, but volunteer firemen soon extinguished the blaze with a booster hose and little damage was done.

ROBINS REPORTED

From three different sections reports were received over the weekend of persons seeing robins. The first came from a Tiona resident, who reported there were 35 or 40 in her yard Saturday morning. Ernest Anderson, Jackson Run road, also reports seeing a robin Saturday, and M. G. Knopf, 104 Oneida avenue, says he saw a robin about 7:30 o'clock this morning.

POLICE TRANSFERS

State police transfers effective on January 16 will move Pvt. Daniel O'Shurek from the Warren sub-station to the Lawrence Park station at Erie. Replacing O'Shurek will be Pfc. William Timmons, from the Corry sub-station. Pfc. Timmons is no stranger to Warren, having been stationed here some time ago. Pvt. Walter Sinawski, of Lawrence Park, will replace Pfc. Timmons at Corry. Orders for the transfers were received over the week end.

EMERGENCIES TREATED

Four emergency cases, all more or less minor in nature, were treated at Warren General Hospital over the weekend. On Friday, Charles Sanden, 83, of Russell RD 1, was treated for a laceration of the lower lip. He was discharged after one suture was applied. On Saturday, Luella Klenke, of Clarendon, was treated for an ankle sprain, sustained in a fall. Also on Saturday, Phillipa Fehman, of Pittsfield, was treated for scalp lacerations, sustained when she fell while getting out of an automobile. She was admitted following treatment. Early this morning, William Horton, 22 Crescent Park, was treated for a small laceration of the left eye, sustained when struck on a snow plow.

PLACED IN CAST

William Junior Donaldson, Jamestown, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Donaldson, Clarendon, has been admitted to Jamestown General Hospital and placed in a cast for correction of a back injury. The young man is said to have been suffering pains in his back, left hip and leg for several years but his condition was not thought serious until last Wednesday when the leg "locked" while he was at work and he was unable to move. X-rays taken at the hospital showed a disc out of place and a growth on the bone. Doctors, who believe the injury came in his youth from too heavy work on his grandfather's farm at Bucher's Mill, report he will be obligated to remain in the cast for some time and may have to have a serious operation.
